PROFILE

Owns a feature end to end: settles the behaviour with design and product before a line is written, picks the architecture, writes the native pieces when Flutter alone is not enough, and takes it through review to the stores. Most recent work is a social network for gamers, where the native home-screen widgets, the chats, the design system and the media players are mine. Works with coding agents daily and reviews their output as strictly as a colleague's.

EXPERIENCE

Gameram

Senior Flutter Engineer

Remote · Cyprus

Social network for gamers on iOS and Android, 12M+ installs by the company's own count. Flutter, BLoC, injectable/get_it, Hive, REST, Stream Chat; three years on the core mobile team.

- Native home-screen widgets built from scratch on both platforms: WidgetKit and Swift on iOS, Glance and Kotlin on Android, with a shared snapshot store, token refresh inside the widget and deep-link taps.
- Chats on Stream Chat: message list, pagination, replies, group chats and chat themes, all through the public SDK without fork patches.
- Design system: owned the shared component library and its v2 refresh; every screen in the app is assembled from it.
- Media players: video and YouTube playback, image zoom and carousel gestures in the feed and on game pages.

SIDE PROJECT

Boop

Personal project · iOS 17+ and Android · alobanov.github.io/getboop

- A diary where every day becomes a doodle: a few lines, a mood and the habits ticked off turn into a small drawing, and the days build into a canvas of the year. No accounts, ads or tracking of what is written.
- Flutter, BLoC, freezed, Drift. The doodles and the year canvas are custom painters; a WidgetKit home-screen widget, iCloud backup over a Swift platform channel, zip export, local reminders.
